

DO NOT ORDER PRODUCT BASED ON THIS SAMPLE!

Due to the unique characteristics found in wood, Canyon Creek Cabinet Company will not refund or replace your cabinets based on any color variations from this wood chip.

With the size of this sample, there is no possible way that it can accurately represent all of the natural characteristics found in wood or be an exact representation of the final full-room product.

This wood chip sample should be used as a guide to help you select a general species/color combination, and to assist you in narrowing the focus of your choices.

Cabinetry is usually a substantial purchase and it is not practical to make such an important decision from a single wood chip of this size.

The best option for selecting your final wood and color combination should be from viewing an actual door sample made in the wood, stain or paint color of your choosing.
