

Canyon Creek Cabinet Company Wood Sample Set Program

We've carefully selected our most popular species/color combinations for our wood chip samples. Keep in mind that because of the small size, the chip will not precisely reflect the natural grain, characteristics, and color ranges found in our product.

Wood chip samples should only be used as a guide to help select a species/color combination, and to assist in narrowing the focus of a customer's choices. The best option is to order a door sample in the selected species, color and style for final approval.

Not all species, finish, and enhancement combinations are represented. Please order a DOS if you need a sample that is not included in any of the sets.

Shown in optional wood box.
Box and wood sets sold separately.

Canyon Creek will not accept warranty claims with the reason stated as color, species attribute, or finish enhancement variance from a wood chip.

DO NOT ORDER PRODUCT BASED ON THESE SAMPLES!

Due to the unique characteristics found in wood, Canyon Creek Cabinet Company will not refund or replace cabinets based on any color variations from wood chips.

Wood chip samples should only be used as a guide to help select a general species/color combination, and to assist in narrowing the focus of a customer's choices.

With the small size of these samples, there is no possible way that it can accurately represent all of the natural characteristics found in wood or be an exact representation of the final full-room product.

The best option for selecting a final wood and color combination should be from viewing an actual door sample made in the wood, stain and/or paint color being considered.
